Living with Covid 19 Plan!

WRITTEN BY DEBORAH FORTUNE

As 2021 starts to unfold we are yet again seen ourselves in lockdown with families juggling working from home with home schooling. This can prove difficult at the best of times for most of us. But for parents of children with special needs no matter where they are on the spectrum, it is extremely challenging and can be sometimes overwhelming at times. Many families rely on schools to provide respite as well as other therapies. Children with special needs can thrive with help and routine. But with covid 19 things are uncertain and a lack of routine can turn a gentle and mild-tempered child, to get more aggressive or challenging behaviours. Lack of routine can cause them to regress, this can be very problematic especially when caring for other children as well and affects the entire family. It can be quite obstructive while they are trying to juggle home schooling, work and everything in between.

At GROW Training we have our on-line courses that are convenient and effective, dealing in many areas and sectors. They are certified with CPD credits once completed successfully. Our featured course this month is autism awareness which you can purchase our on-line courses from our website or we can set up your business on a Virtual Academy Business Account with discounts available. Course Description - Autism is a lifelong developmental disability that affects how a person communicates with and relates to other people around them. According to the National Autistic Society, autism affects about 700,000 people in the United Kingdom, which equates to 1 in 100 of the population and the number of children being diagnosed with the condition is continuing to increase. This course will provide you with an understanding of what autism is and how it affects a child's daily life. It will touch on what factors contribute towards a child developing autism as well as some of the typical behaviours associated with it and how you can provide effective support for those with the condition. It also discusses what happens during the diagnosis process, some of the intervention methods that can help manage the condition and suggests some simple adaptations you can make to improve a child with autism's day to day life.

Target Audience - People working in adult and child care environments. Those working in all areas of care may come into contact with people who has Autistic Spectrum Disorders ASD.

Although the course focuses on children with autism, having an awareness of the condition and how best to provide support to someone with ASD will be of use to anyone who interacts with and cares for children and adults as part of their work.

Advantages - Having a knowledge of the typical behaviours and challenges associated with ASD can equip you to identify these and act in a supportive way. CPD approval means that this course can be used by those that need to prove they are continually developing themselves. Online training is flexible, efficient and cost effective meaning the candidate can progress through the modules at their own pace and in their own time, so they can fit the training in around their work and personal life.

Further Progression - There are a lot of courses in our health and social care suite that would make great follow ups to this course and if you are responsible for the care of adults or children then a wide range of them would provide valuable additions to your knowledge. Specific topics that compliment this directly are Introduction to Early Years Foundation Stage, Equality and Diversity and Mental Health Awareness.
