Post Covid19 road map!

WRITTEN BY DEBORAH FORTUNE

As our Hairdressers and barbers prepare to reopen very big changes will impact there industry as social distancing is virtual impossible. With new guidelines for reopening the sector safely and responsibly. The health and safety protocols for staff and customers will ensure it is safe for people to have their hair cut. Return to Work Safely Protocol 101, Covid19 induction training is a new and nesseray course of action for all business reopening. Getting Back to Work in The "New Normal" What Do You Need To Do To Prepare To Open Your Doors Again? The Protocol 101 is all about helping you better understand the protocol is mandatory, and it applies to all workplaces right across the economy. Obviously, specific sectors may need to introduce additional safeguards, but this document sets the standard set of measures required in every workplace. The Protocol is a 'living' document i.e. non-exhaustive and subject to change as the advice issued by National Public Health Emergency. Response Team (NPHET) continues to evolve. The purpose of the document is to provide clear and actionable guidance for safe operations through the prevention, early detection and control of COVID-19 in schools and other educational facilities. Promote information sharing, GROW Training can support you during this process. We deliver Covid19 induction training and much more to keep us all safe. As always, we are committed to providing you with excellent service and if you need any help, support or refresher courses contact us.

FEATURED COURSE - EPILEPSY AWARENESS
GROW SMARTER GROW FASTER

CPD Approved

Course Description- When introducing epilepsy, we must first recognise that there are around 40 different types of seizures. Statistics show that one in five people will have a seizure at some time in their life although only some of these will be caused by epilepsy.

Epilepsy is a neurological condition that affects the brain and the nervous system and is covered by the Equality Act 2010. The condition can affect people for only a portion of their life, or it can be lifelong. Because of the varied nature of the condition an awareness of epilepsy and the actions you can take if you are present during a seizure is incredibly useful for those who work in health and social care.

This course will give you an overview of epilepsy. It lists the methods of diagnosis, what a seizure is and how the brain can be affected. It will introduce some possible seizure triggers and describe what to do when someone has a seizure. It will also discuss some of the treatments offered to people with epilepsy and provide practical advice on what you can do if you witness someone having a seizure.

Target Audience

Aimed primarily at people working in the care sector with children or adults however anyone who would like to expand their knowledge or understand what to do if they see someone have a seizure should take this course. It's also a great one to do alongside first aid training as it expands on the information relating to seizures that is usually taught as part of first aid.

Advantages

Having a knowledge of Epilepsy and the different types of seizure and the actions you can take if you are present during a seizure will allow you to take a proactive role in ensuring the person is kept safe and as comfortable as possible. CPD approval means that this course can be used by those that need to prove they are continually developing themselves.

Further Progression

If you would like to further your skills and be prepared for situations that might require a first line response, then our Emergency First aid in the workplace or Paediatric First Aid courses are both great next steps from this one. For those people that have already completed First Aid training then another course that can complement your knowledge is Diabetes Awareness.
